Leads in defense work in northern Illinois

Arlington a step ahead of many communities

Arlington Heights is among the leaders in its civilian defense organization and is far ahead of most northern Illinois cities and villages, says Mr. J. J. Adamson, chairman in charge of the staff of the Command Post. Mr. Adamson serves the United States government as an advisor on civilian defense throughout the twenty-two northern counties of Illinois and is in a position to get a true picture.

Mr. Adamson quoted leaders in Kane and DuPage counties as saying that Arlington Heights was well ahead of them. In Kewanee, Rock Island and Moline he found that staff officers had just been appointed late last week while in Boone and McHenry counties community leaders were anxious to begin organization. Enrollment blanks were about to be sent out in Rockford.

This fine showing in Arlington Heights is a result of the volunteer work of over one hundred persons. There remains the problem of translating organization into actual working reality and the success of this depends entirely on the co-operation of the entire community with the Defense Council. That must be forthcoming if Arlington Heights is to maintain the position it has taken.

NEED FUNDS

"It takes money to pay for printing and paper and postage," says Walter Krause, Jr. "A great many persons are doing civilian defense work free of charge but we cannot get materials for nothing. Perhaps those who cannot help by working can help by giving."

In these words Mr. Krause, Unit chairman in charge of finances, put his finger on one of the major problems now facing the Civilian Defense Council of Arlington Heights. Several hundred dollars will undoubtedly be needed to support the program locally. Some of this will come from the collection of old newspapers and magazines but this will need to be supplemented from some other sources.

Already the postage costs have mounted to over twenty dollars and there will be more to follow. Printing and paper costs cannot be avoided where such a large organization has to be set up, and operated.

With governmental organizations strained to the utmost to meet the costs of the greatest war in our history it is necessary for local problems of this kind to be handled and financed locally if at all possible. In the entire metropolitan area around Chicago it is planned to operate on funds locally raised.

The donation of the services of many persons, the loan of equipment and cash gifts by the American Legion and the Community Forum have helped.

Both individuals and organizations can help and donations can be made at Mr. Krause's office at 1 E. Campbell st.

Waterless meal reminds boy of broken main

A break in an Arlington Heights water main east of Scarsdale did not impress Jack Thompson, 501 S. Pine st. of that subdivision until he got home and found that there was no water in the house for his supper. Jack then told his mother of his discovery two hours earlier. The latter notified the police, who shut off the damaged main and water pressure was restored with the help of race track.

The broken main was over the big sewer and there is a possibility that a lot of water has been going to waste for some time, which explains the mysterious water shortage of recent weeks.

Thursday evening there were many frantic households, especially on the third floors, where occupants could not even get a gurgling out of their water faucets.

A number of water consumers who were without water suddenly remembered that they had not paid their water bills and the phone at the pumping station began to receive promises of payment of bills the following morning.

One business man melted ice cubes in order to get water with which to shave.

Following repairs, the northside pump is in operation, but until the well clear up all the water goes directly into the sewer.

The village board met Monday evening and authorized the signing of the submitted contract from the race track which calls for a fee of 15¢ a thousand gallons.

Benefits open to Wheeling and Elk Grove townships

Don't get excited over water bill

Water bills covering a four months period instead of the customary three months will be placed in the mails Saturday. These bills will all call for higher amounts than usual, but water consumers should not get excited. Due to the extra month, the minimum charge will be $2.00 in place of the usual $1.50 while heavier users will find their bills averaging an increase of one third.

The added safety of larger numbers is obvious, and defense leaders are anxious to make full use of the abilities of any citizen, without regard to village limits.

Uniting into larger groups will bring certain benefits in rationing whatever articles national leaders should find should be placed under control. For example, the tire quotas of some areas are so small that fractions of one tire are involved.

This automatically reduces tires available for sale unless areas are combined to make use of fractions.

Those wishing to participate in Civilian Defense work may volunteer by personal call or phone at the Arlington Heights Village Hall between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. any day except Sunday.

Cubs to try out as messengers; banquet Feb. 11

Mr. A. G. Cubley, cubmaster of Pack 232, has been appointed chairman of the messenger service of Civilian Defense in Arlington Hts. This means that the cubs of the pack will take an active part in the important work which is to be done.

It will be necessary to work out a way of getting in touch with all of the cubs in a hurry. A plan has been developed and is being put to a test this week in dens 5 and 11. Cubs have been instructed to remain at home until they are called on the telephone to come to their den meetings and have called another cub relaying the message to him. Each cub has one other cub to call. A record will be made of the time elapsed between the first call and the last boy to arrive at the den. If the system proves satisfactory in the test case, it will be extended to other dens.

All den dads now have a supply of tickets to the Father-Cubs banquet to be held Wednesday, February 11. The price is 75 cents a plate, and cubs should take their money for two tickets to the next den meeting. It is important that fathers attend this dinner meeting. They will find out what Cubbing is. And certainly will enjoy hearing your songs have been practicing. The program will be announced next week in the Herald.

Mission school begins Sunday

A school of missions will be held at the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights each Sunday night in February, beginning at 7 p. m. o'clock. Drivers' license blanks ready Miss Catherine Behrens has a supply of new application blanks for driver's licenses and is prepared to fill them out at her office at the Flentie & Behrens real estate office.

All operator's licenses expire on May 1. As there are three million of them to be renewed, the office of the Secretary of State anticipates a jam in his office as the final date nears. A notice accompanying all new license plates asks drivers to renew their operating licenses at once.

The village board met Monday evening and authorized the signing of the submitted contract from the race track which calls for a fee of 15¢ a thousand gallons.

Local pharmacist to wed McHenry girl Saturday

Miss Marie Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller, McHenry, will become the bride of Wm. Morgan, Arlington Heights, Saturday at 2 p. m. at St. Mary's rectory, McHenry. Mr. Morgan is proprietor of Morgan's Pharmacy on Northwest Highway.

A deputy collector from the internal revenue office will be at the Arlington Heights National bank Feb. 6, 9 and 10 to consult with local people on their income tax problems. It is requested that appointments be made in advance so that those who desire these services may receive them without inconvenience.

Fire chief gives timely hints

A report by Mr. Richard Jahn, unit chairman in charge of Auxiliary Firemen, carried detailed recommendations for preparations by the public to meet incendiary bombing when and if it should come. Mr. Jahn, after watching experts handle fire bombs and after attending conferences of firemen on air raid problems, urged the people of Arlington Heights to take the following simple and inexpensive precautions.

"Acceptances of this responsibility have poured in since announcement of appointments were sent out to the 185 block wardens," Mr. Schneberger stated Sunday. "There has been no refusal to date, and I am sure that all appointments will be heard from within the next few days. We are greatly pleased by the cooperation which is forthcoming from all members of the community."

Meetings with the black-out test wardens will be held soon, Mr. Schneberger announced. This will permit full discussion of the wardens' duties, he said.

"The black-out wardens' territory is the square block in which he lives," Mr. Schneberger stated. "He is not directly responsible for notifying homes across the street. In the more thickly settled parts of the village the warden is enlisting the services of two deputies to facilitate the work and prevent the breakdown of test plans if the warden is away or fails to hear when a bomb drops from a plane ready with a long-handled shovel nearby. When a fire bomb stops sputtering so that you can come close to it, you can shovel it into the sand and smother it. Or you can shovel it out the window if you have enough open space around the house."

Clean out your attic; leave no stacks of old papers, magazines, etc., around in them (besides, the Defense Council needs them as a means of raising funds).

Have a garden hose connected with a tap in the basement, or at least lying nearby, ready to connect. Do not leave the hose in an unheated garage or it may be frozen up and useless. It should be long enough to reach to the attic.

Use a fine spray around the bomb to dampen the wood; a heavy stream only makes incendiaries explode and burn more fiercely.

Expect trouble to occur near the roof and be on the alert. Do not wait until you have a big fire before you discover it; check frequently.

If you cannot handle a fire bomb successfully by yourself, call for assistance.

You may not expect air raids

this far inland, but if you are unprepared and you should happen to be wrong, you will not have time to correct your error. Remember Pearl Harbor!

The full list of wardens will be published next week.

Block wardens accept appointments

The response of Arlington Heights' residents who have been appointed wardens for air raid blackout tests has been most gratifying when and if it should come. School Semester Closes; Students' Position Analyzed by John L. Grose

Grade cards out Friday

Mr. John L. Grose, Asst. Principal and attendance officer, analyzes the causes for most of the unsatisfactory progress made by students in the high school in the following article:

Last Friday marked the completion of the first semester of the year 1941-42 at the Arlington Heights high school. On Thursday and Friday of last week the final examinations were given to all those not being exempted from these finals because of low averages in their class work. Also included in this exemption were satisfactory attendance records as well as sufficiently creditable behavior habits. Elsewhere in this issue is a list of those attaining the honor roll this past half year.

On Friday of this week all students will receive their report cards. To some these will mean records of high achievement. To many others they will be merely a record of sufficiently satisfactory work done that they will be enabled to pass on to further classes. And to a few they will mean the dreadful realization that little has been accomplished in the past 19 weeks of school.

These report cards should be examined by the parents, signed and sent back to the school at once. This is largely, the only means the teachers have of knowing that most parents are aware of their child's record. In fact, the cards are primarily for the parents. For the most part the pupils know very nearly exactly what these marks are before they get them.

The high school faculty go under the assumption that all parents are directly interested in the achievements of their sons and daughters. For this reason it might be well to list the primary causes for the lack of achievement. It can readily be seen that satisfactory records are the result of a direct antithesis of these causes of failure.

These may be listed under three separate headings:

First, and probably heading the list of outright failures, are those few children with whom their parents gradually lost contact. Many of these eventually lose interest in school and drop out entirely. The desire for education must be, in most cases the direct result of systematic training all through the early years of a child's life, with the understanding that education is the one goal toward which they must strive.

Secondly, poor attendance and lack of punctuality are undoubtedly the reason for many unsatisfactory records attained by those students capable otherwise of much higher achievement. Most parents should look well into this item. High school students, as well as those in the lower grades are very much in the habit formation stage. Assuredly the obligation of regular attendance is an asset in later life in the holding of a job. It is equally as important in school, perhaps more so.

Assuredly, no parent should permit a child to go to school who is not well or otherwise physically unable to be there. Just as surely they should take counsel with themselves at permitting the slightest deviation from regular attendance. And no employer will tolerate the consistent late puncturing of a time clock.

Just as surely as any parents deviate from this obligation to their sons and daughters they are contributing to the delinquency of their own offspring.

Third, insufficient rest at night so that they are not alert the following days. Any growing child needs plenty of sleep to make progress either physically, mentally, or morally. The advisability of being away from home on school nights is highly questionable. Yet many parents permit this infraction night after night with little regard to the consequences.

Along with this third point is the questionable practice of too frequent access to the use of automobiles. Most school officials and teachers deplore the fact that so many boys and girls are given this privilege, if it can be called such. A bit of checking up on the part of the parents might throw quite a bit of light on the lack of progress made, due to this one particular thing.

In fact, practically all high school pupils who are not within walking distance of school may have free transportation by buses which cover most of the territory within our school limits. Those within the distance at the outside of town who are not permitted to ride the buses would be far better off and would cause less trouble if they walked to school most of the time.

In conclusion, these are not solely my ideas which have been accumulated through many years of experience in school work. They coincide, for the most part, with the beliefs of most of our present day educators.

YOUR INCOME TAX

To make it easier for taxpayers to meet the increased taxes required by the National Defense Program, the Treasury Department is offering for sale two series of notes, both dated August 1, 1941, and maturing August 1, 1943.

In January of each year two new series will be provided so that a taxpayer can always purchase notes during the entire year in which he is receiving his income for use in payment of taxes due the following year. The reason for the two-year note is to permit a taxpayer, if he so desires, to begin saving in January of one year and continue through that year to save for his taxes due the following year.

All notes are sold at par and accrued interest. When presented in payment of income taxes they will be received at par and accrued interest up to and including the month in which such taxes are paid. Interest will not accrue beyond the maturity of the notes. If not presented in payment of income taxes, they will be redeemed for cash under certain specified conditions at the purchase price paid for notes. In other words, the taxpayer, if he redeems the notes for cash, gets back just the amount he paid.

Complete information about these Treasury notes, will be found in a Treasury Department Circular available at local banks, Federal Reserve Banks and branches, or Treasury Department, Washington, D. C.

A & P employees adopt defense bond purchase plan

The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company has completed arrangements for facilitating the voluntary purchase of defense bonds by employees through pay check deductions. John A. Hartford, president of the company, announced today. The company has approximately 65,000 full time employees in the United States.

Under the plan employees may authorize deductions from their pay checks and the bonds will be issued through Federal Reserve banks and post offices. The company will deduct the money each week and purchase the bonds. The bonds will then be mailed to the employee-purchasers.

The plan encourages the purchase of bonds by simplifying the procedure whereby employees may make a systematic contribution to the nation's war effort and at the same time establish a reserve fund for the future.

Methodist parsonage is dedicated

Nearly three hundred friends and members of the Methodist church of Arlington Heights attended the open house and dedication service in the recently remodeled parsonage on Sunday afternoon.

The lovely house which received the acclaim of all, was made possible through the generous gift of Mr. Wm. Harth, who gave it as a memorial to his wife, Sarah, who worked long and faithfully in the Methodist church, until her death a number of years ago.

Rev. George Truman, Carl of Joyce Memorial church of Chicago, presented the dedication service, and in a simple homey talk stressed the importance of beautiful surroundings as an affinity with God, who loves beauty and who has expressed so lavishly in nature. He said that the visible beauty from the outside would be manifest by the lives of those who lived within the home, thru the years to come, and who strive constantly to serve their charge and their God.

Rev. Carl spoke of the sacred memory of Sarah Harth which dominated the service and in whose name the parsonage was dedicated, of the love and affection she bore the church and which in turn she received from all.

At the close of his talk he placed the memorial plaque on the wall, naming the parsonage the "St. George and the Dragon" and "Romeo and Juliet." He will also present some of his finger puppets at the club performance. They are a very different type of figure and are more on the artistic side, doing ballets, skating skits and tap numbers.

Woman's club members are to have the privilege of bringing their children for this interesting and entertaining program which will follow the regular business meeting and night club performances.

Defense Program In Full Swing

Prospects Heights
organizes own unit

Friday evening Cook County Coordinator James J. Doody of the Cook County Council of Defense in unincorporated rural areas, called a mass meeting at the Prospect Heights school at 8:00 p.m., for the purpose of organizing a civilian defense council in this area. Mr. J. Wayne Bowman was acting chairman. Mrs. Roy A. Hartke, temporary secretary.

Mr. Doody gave a very stirring address, pointing out the immediate need for such a defense council so that the entire community may be alert to any emergency that may arise. "We, of the middle west cannot be too snug about our inland security," stated Mr. Doody. "Some say it can't happen here—I can, but we hope to God that it never does."

"When I receive my first copy" stated a prospect Heights resident this week, "my wife and I did not get to bed that night until we had set up our budget figures." That tells the story. Readers of the Herald who are interested can get one of the books from Mr. Larson. If you can not call at his office at 4 N. Elmhurst rd., a phone call to 1515 will bring you one of the books.

Let's not forget the date, let's all go and have some fun.

C. Abramsons
wedding anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Abramson were pleasantly surprised on Tuesday evening, January 20, by friends and neighbors, the occasion being their 15th wedding anniversary.

All the guests came to the anniversary party dressed as brides and grooms—many wearing their original wedding gowns. During the course of the evening, a mock wedding was performed with songs rendered by a "Barber Shop Trio"—humorous. Gifts of "glass" were presented to the bride and groom.

Refreshments of wedding cake and coffee were served and Mr. and Mrs. Abramson were presented with a pair of beautiful crystal candlesticks and received wishes for many more happy years together.

Municipal parking lot for Mt. Prospect

Residents of Prospect Heights commuters who board Northwestern trains at Mount Prospect will soon have placed at their disposal a municipal parking lot immediately west of Main street, adjoining the railroad where 200 cars can be parked.

Mt. Prospect village board recently signed the lease that gives the municipality authority over the property in question. The Lions club has agreed to provide the posts and barricades. As soon as frost is out of the ground, the lot will be put in shape and be ready for cars.

Parking space for commuters has been sorely lacking for some time and Mayor Besander and members of the village board have sought a remedy. The remedy is a double "dose." A parking space is provided for autoists and a temptation has been removed from outsiders who have frequently cast longing eyes at that choice bit of property which would be an excellent site for a bulk gas plant or some other enterprise of similar nature.

Boy Scouts start
fund drive Feb. 9

The annual campaign for funds for the Northwest Suburban Council of the Boy Scouts of America will be launched Monday, February 9, with a goal of $6,815.00 needed to carry the Council's activities through 1942.

Under the leadership of Dayton Click, chairman of the local fund drive and assisted by James E. Wax, business and civic leaders will serve as canvassers in Mt. Prospect, and these leaders issued an appeal to every resident of the community to contribute to the limit of his financial ability in order to aid the vital work of the boy scouts—now more important than ever due to the war emergency.

The volunteer solicitors expect to complete their house-to-house canvass in three nights, putting the drive "over the top" by the time the last doorbell is rung on Wednesday evening, February 11.

At the present time there is one scout troop and one cub pack in Mt. Prospect, with a total membership of 59. Increasing interest in scout activities indicates that the membership in both of these units will be increased during the coming year.

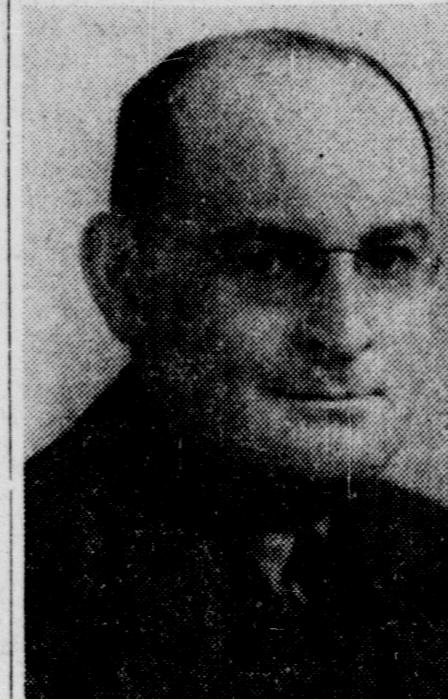

"Of every dollar contributed by local residents to the boy scouts, 99 cents is spent locally to support actual scouting and cubbing activities and one cent goes for support of the national boy scout organization," Mr. Click said. "This year, more than ever, is it necessary that the Boy Scout finance campaign be put over the top due to the present war emergency."

Boy scouts here and in every other community of the nation are playing a vital role in civilian defense activities. Scout training, always important as a contribution toward future citizenship, is now an urgent necessity because of the forces of aggression which have been loosed in the world as a direct challenge to our way of life."

Fifteen men in the city are now donating their time and their highly specialized knowledge in developing the local scouting program. The national office of civilian defense has placed upon the boy scout organization important responsibilities in connection with civilian defense activities.

The boy scout organization, with the aid of citizen volunteers, has inaugurated and developed a special program of emergency service, training and activities in connection with civilian defense. Regular scout training includes first aid, firemanship, signalling, mapping, life saving, pathfinding and cooperation with others. Scout leaders in carrying out the program of the national council constantly strive to educate boys in Scoutcraft, outdoor skills and citizenship responsibilities, and through these efforts aid parents in moulding character.

"The importance of these activities has increased a hundred-fold since Pearl Harbor," Mr. Click asserted. "I urge every citizen to contribute generously that this vital work may be carried forward so that when the story of America's future citizens is written it can be said 'They were prepared.'

The bride was dressed in a light blue wool suit and wore a corsage of orchids. Her matron of honor, Mrs. William Golden, wore a blue flannel street dress with a corsage of rhubarb lilies.

The groom and his brother, Alvin, who acted as best man, wore dark business suits.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Theodore Lams presided at the organ.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for 90 guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hedke on William st.

The young couple left for a short honeymoon and when they return will reside at 107 S. William st.

The young girls of Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights are organizing a "Bundles for Bluejackets" group. The following officers have been elected: Ruth Baskin, president; Dorothy Mundt, vice president; Darlene Hamm, secretary; Bette Gramm, membership; Mary Ellen Braden, treasurer; Winifred Wensley, knitting chairman; Betty Fenton, publicity. The girls met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Wensley in Arlington Heights.

"Of every dollar contributed by local residents to the boy scouts, 99 cents is spent locally to support actual scouting and cubbing activities and one cent goes for support of the national boy scout organization," Mr. Click said. "This year, more than ever, is it necessary that the Boy Scout finance campaign be put over the top due to the present war emergency."

Fred Meeske is celebrating the 16th anniversary of his store in a big way this week. First, he is offering very unusual bargains and second, he is using color in a full page advertisement in the Herald. This is the first time that an advertiser has used the national colors, red, white and blue in an announcement in the Paddock Publications.

The motive back of the unusual request, explained Mr. Meeske was the desire to donate part of his advertising space to aid the present Red Cross drive and the sale of defense bonds and stamps. "We must all do unusual things in the present war," stated Mr. Meeske.

"I want the people of Mt. Prospect to consider Meeske's as something more than just a food store. It is part of the civic life of the community, a store that is interested in the success of every civic program and willing to take a part in them."

Fred Meeske was working on a farm in 1918 when William Bussell Jr. offered him a job as a delivery clerk in his general merchandise store and meat market. Fred says that he jumped at the "city" job but found that it was no easier than farm work. "I soon discovered," states Mr. Meeske, "that there was a lot of hard work about a store, but I enjoyed it and was naturally elated when a partnership was offered me by my boss in 1926. Two years later I became the sole proprietor."

The growth of the Meeske store might be called unusual in these days of heavy competition. Twelve years are engaged in handling its business. Plans were completed several months ago for the erection of a new store building on the southeast corner of Main and Bussell st. Actual construction of the store will depend upon the national emergency governing building materials.

Housewives will find something more than just prices in the Meeske ad.

The proprietor, in a special message to housewives, tells about the need for the conservation of paper, reason why there will be fewer tin cans, a shortage of fats and some price advances. Mr. Meeske, however, points out that as his store is part of the Centrelle organization he will be able to obtain a maximum amount of foods, staples and meats and will do everything in his power to distribute them equitably among his customers.

The sale starts Thursday and ends Saturday night.

Elk Grove tire rationing board issued its first truck tires last week to Wm. Rohlwing. Applications now on file exceed the January quota, which is 1.7 passenger car tires and 3 1/2 truck tires.

Large attendance at Mt. Prospect meetingSouth church anniversary events

The Anniversary business meeting on Friday evening, February 6th, at the Mt. Prospect South church begins the series of Fifth Anniversary events to be held there. At the business meeting reports on anniversary goals will reveal something of the progress of the church during its first five years of life. Historical displays will also add the interest in the achievements of the organization.

In January, 1938, after nearly 11 months of activity, the church closed its charter membership roll with 95 names included. Since that time 128 individuals have joined the organization. Membership losses will bring the Fifth Anniversary Membership Roll to about 200 names. This rapid growth in membership has been encouraged by the community nature of the church and its varied program of Christian activities.

The first Sunday of the anniversary celebration, February 8th, will be the occasion for the Anniversary communion service in the morning with reception of the final group of members before the Fifth Anniversary Membership Roll is closed. In the evening the young people of the church will be hosts to the Northwest Suburban youth Fellowship. The speaker of the evening will be Rev. James Hunter, a missionary on furlough from an occupied section of China. Rev. Hunter is a brother of Mrs. R. R. Kunkle of this village.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for 90 guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hedke on William st.

The young couple left for a short honeymoon and when they return will reside at 107 S. William st.

The sale starts Thursday and ends Saturday night.

Approximately 150 people attended the first lecture-instruction meeting of the Mount Prospect Civilian Defense organization held last Wednesday evening in the public school.

A very interesting and informative lecture was given by L. D. Dibble on the different types of bombs and how to combat them. Mrs. M. F. Madison gave a talk on the Red Cross organization and Police Chief Whittenberg reported on police activities. Reports were also made by the chiefs of the other divisions.

The Boy Scouts very ably demonstrated their knowledge of first aid under the supervision of James Wax.

The Civilian Defense Organization as published in the January 14 issue of the Review lists the names of those appointed as division chiefs and their assistants who are the heads of the various precincts. Other appointments will be made. From the applications received 10 or 15 have been selected for police duty and an air raid warden has been selected for each block in the village. These people will be notified in the near future.

If you are qualified for any phase of defense work do not hesitate to volunteer.

Mt. Prospect now has 24-hour
police service

Residents of Mt. Prospect will have 24-hour police service commencing February 1st when Arno Schramm becomes the third officer. The officers are George E. Whittenberg, and Walter Foslund.

The state defense set-up asks that 24-hour service be provided in all municipalities. Mt. Prospect village board is anxious to do its part in the present emergency and recently authorized the hiring of the third man.

Working schedule has been so arranged that two men will be on duty during the early part of the evening and the police will be as near to every resident as possible.

Another luncheon of the series will be held on Jan. 30 at the home of Mrs. Homer Davis with Mrs. Paul Jonas and Mrs. Paul Gilson assistant hostesses. The usual good time is expected.

Red Cross sewing will be held at Legion hall on Thursday, Jan. 29.

The next regular Auxiliary meeting will be held Feb. 9 at the home of Mrs. Hotz instead of the Storm home as previously scheduled.

Aliens will still be classified IV-C; Filipinos accepted

Colonel Paul G. Armstrong, State Director of Selective Service, today clarified a recent ruling from Washington concerning the classification of aliens in the forthcoming registration of all male residents, February 16, between the ages of twenty to forty-four inclusive.

Pointing to the biblical maxim that the fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, Dr. Maier predicted that many Protestant aliens, and all enemy aliens, both declarant and nondeclarant, will be continued in Class IV-C. A later directive will be issued, covering the reclassification of these registrants.

Filipinos Accepted

Filipinos who, under the former regulations of the Selective Service System, were barred from being accepted into the armed forces of the United States, are now considered nationals of this country and thus are able to be inducted into the Army, according to a change in regulations just received by Col. Paul G. Armstrong, Director of Selective Service in Illinois.

Selective Service Boards have been instructed to reclassify all Filipinos who are eligible for Class 1-A and proceed to induct them in the same manner as is being carried out with American citizens.

Also, Filipinos between the ages of 18 and 35 years, inclusive, can volunteer for induction.

Until arrangements are made by the War Department, the Director said, "for the reception of nondeclarant aliens, all declarant aliens, and all enemy aliens, both declarant and nondeclarant, will be continued in Class IV-C. A later directive will be issued, covering the reclassification of these registrants."

Buck Toman for county board

A tidal wave of public support for John Toman as the best possible Democratic candidate for the vitally important post of County Board President was reported this week by veteran political observers as thousands of Cook County voters indicated their conviction that Toman would make the ideal chief executive for the Board of County Commissioners.

Toman's previous record as an exceptionally well qualified public official was pointed to by those admirers who recently began a "draft" movement designed to convince the present County Treasurer that his followers throughout the county will not "take no" for his answer. Toman's successful performance of his duties as a Chicago alderman and in the difficult offices of County Sheriff and County Treasurer were cited as proof of his capacity to direct county affairs smoothly from the chair of the County Board President.

Especial emphasis was placed on his achievements as Treasurer, when he collected an all-time high total of taxes while at the same time creating the unique Delinquency Tax Bureau which has won the commendation of students of government throughout the nation. The Delinquency Bureau, pointed to as evidence of Toman's sincere humanitarian attitude toward the "little fellows" among the citizenry, permits those in arrears with their general taxes to catch up their accounts by installment payments. This saves them from the threat of foreclosure and confiscation, while at the same time affording the county additional revenue which would otherwise be largely lost.

"Toman has done it before, he is doing it now, and he will do it again," one of the leaders in the "draft" movement said recently when discussing the Treasurer's executive ability. "John Toman has tackled some mighty tough jobs in his day, but it's always been Toman who licked the job — never the job that licked Toman. What I like best about him is the fact that he's big enough to handle a task the size of that which would confront him as President of the County Board, and yet he's still human enough to be just an ordinary fellow in all his dealings with the people of the county. Experience and success have broadened Toman's outlook, but they haven't widened his hat band. That is the kind of man we need in the critical days that lie just ahead."

Although Toman has as yet refused to comment on the widespread evidence of public endorsement for the part his friends wish him to take, it is expected that he would approach the County Board's problems with the same relish for hard work and the same eye on the welfare of John Q. public that has contributed to his reputation to date.

Dr. Maier warns of anti-religious tendencies

St. Louis, Jan. 25 — (Special) — Dr. Walter A. Maier of Concordia Seminary warned in his coast-to-coast Lutheran Hour address today of a "deep-rooted determination on the part of many teachers, whose salaries are paid from public funds, to poison young minds against the Bible and the Christian religion."

Asserting that textbooks used in many public schools evidence an "away-from-God" tendency, the noted theologian said the collapse of constructive education in morality and reverence constitutes a serious menace to the future of the nation. While recent years have witnessed a tremendous increase in school buildings and school enrollment, he added, we have been forced also to build more prisons and to combat an increasing rate of juvenile crime and delinquency.

Pointing to the biblical maxim that the fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, Dr. Maier predicted that many Protestant aliens, and all enemy aliens, both declarant and nondeclarant, will be continued in Class IV-C. A later directive will be issued, covering the reclassification of these registrants.

Filipinos Accepted

Filipinos who, under the former regulations of the Selective Service System, were barred from being accepted into the armed forces of the United States, are now considered nationals of this country and thus are able to be inducted into the Army, according to a change in regulations just received by Col. Paul G. Armstrong, Director of Selective Service in Illinois.

Selective Service Boards have been instructed to reclassify all Filipinos who are eligible for Class 1-A and proceed to induct them in the same manner as is being carried out with American citizens.

Also, Filipinos between the ages of 18 and 35 years, inclusive, can volunteer for induction.

It Happened Here

SUNSET
Rose and pink in flowery banks
Rhododendrons spread their bloom
High above the rocky point
Where the waters dash in spume.

Such a headland with a light
Points the weary sailor home
When in fog he drifts to land
Where the breakers rear and comb.

When the evening star peeps
forth

From a bank of rose and red
Rhododendrons bloom again,

Bloom as in their native bed;

Then a hapless sailor, I
See the beacon, steadfast, clear,

And the harbor lights draw near.
S'Amuse.

Cards Win Hard-Fought Game at Warren

Podraza leads Niles win over Palatine with 21 points

by G. A. McELROY

Saturday's game between Northeast leading Niles and Northwest leading Palatine came out as it had been doped but we do not think that either team played up to the class they have displayed in games in their own respective leagues. Niles surprised by playing a zone defense and slow style of game which they worked very effectively. Probably the biggest difference in the playing of the two leagues this year is the superiority of the Northeast in ball handling. Niles has a fine team which seems a cinch to win the championship but Libertyville is good enough to get a share of it if they are at their best February 13 when they are host to the Trojans. Friday, February 13, will be unlucky for one of these teams.

Wollar Tops N. W. Scoring

Wollar, Barrington's sharp shooting junior forward, has grabbed the scoring lead in the Northwest Conference. While Schwolow of Palatine was idle with a pulled leg muscle, Wollar jumped into the lead with 66 points. Schwolow of the Pirates and Barnstable, Antioch center, are tied for the runner-up spot with 64 counters. Oswald of Wauconda who finished his high school career at the semester has the fourth spot with 61 followed by Howes of Palatine with 60. The next in line are Buman and Gutnik of Bensenville with 52 and 49 respectively. Kropf of Ela, playing one less game than the other leaders, has 48 and Ed. Gerretsen of Grant 47.

913 Teams in State Tournament Series

A new record will be set this year for participation in the state series of tournaments. The addition of 20 Catholic schools, four academies, and the 40 Chicago high schools boosts the total to 913. This will be the 35th state series and the finals at Champaign March 19-21, will again include the sweet sixteen sectional winners. Oak Park is returning to tournament competition for the first time in over 10 years. It is pretty early to be picking them but we like the chances of Niles of Skokie to win the Waukegan Regional and Elgin to cop the Dundee Regional.

Four Leaders Meet

First Defeat

The weekend saw the defeat for the first time in league competition for the leaders of the Suburban, West Suburban, Big Eight, and Little Seven Conferences. The Suburban League Morton's state champs fell before Evanston. It was the final game for Leitner and Strumillo the all state Morton stars as this pair graduated at mid year. We predict that Morton will not go down to the state this year or even win the York Regional.

Elgin After Big Eight Title

Another leader defeated was York who tasted defeat for the first time at the hands of Glenbard. Elgin whipped undefeated Joliet by 48-25 to gain a tie with the Steel City team for the Big Eight lead. Joliet, by the way, was minus four regulars who graduated at the end of the semester. Sycamore dropped their first Little Seven game to Naperville. Both these teams have whipped Dundee.

Salvo Scoring Well

At Maine

Paul Salvo, the forward Palatine lost and Maine gained, has been going great for the last place Des Plaines team. Last weekend Salvo scored a total of 22 points in the two weekend games. He ranks second in team scoring. The addition of Salvo still has not pulled Maine out of the West Suburban.

Pat Harmon Names

Leading Teams

Pat Harmon, state prep sports authority, writing from Champaign states that the best 10 basketball teams in Illinois on the basis of last week's ratings were: (1) Paris; (2) Streator; (3) Morton; (4) Johnson City; (5) West Frankfort; (6) Mt. Vernon; (7) Waterman; (8) Decatur; (9) Thornton of Harvey; (10) Wood River. Last week's results and the loss of their stars drops Morton a good many notches in the ratings.

Bronchos May Be

Giant Killers

If Barrington whips Antioch this weekend Saturday and then trips up Palatine next Friday on the Pirate's court, they will have accom-

Pirates are outplayed on home floor

Junior Pirates play outstanding game to win, 28-27

Paced by Podraza who scored 21 points, Niles proved the superiority of the Northeast over the Northwest Conference by defeating Palatine on their own court 28-27 Saturday night.

The Niles team which has established a record of seven straight victories in the Northeast Conference ran up a 19-11 lead in the first half and then pulled Palatine out of their zone by stalling tactics and went on to win handily. Palatine stayed with the Trojans through the first period which ended 12-10 for the visitors, but the Pirates failed to tally one in the second quarter.

Palatine outscored Niles 11-6 in the third period to narrow the margin to 25-22 but Podraza broke away for four baskets in the final eight minutes to give Niles comfortable lead.

Good Games in Northeast

The card in the Northeast looks as good as one this week. The top game will be Woodstock at Arlington and it will be a humdinger.

Woodstock beat the Cards 37-36 as of this week. A difference as predicted for Friday. Lynne's improving Eagles will give Libertyville a tough time but are in high powered Niles combine.

Warren at Lake Forest brings together a pair who had a one point lead the last time out and we think it will be Warren on the long end again this time.

State tourney

program announced

Tournament time is not far off

last week the listing of teams for the districts and regionals of the state series were announced by the state office. The district tournaments will be run off starting February 25 and from each district a winner and runner up will advance to regionals along with six seeded teams starting play on March 4.

There is little change in the Waukegan region. Waukegan, New Berlin, Libertyville, Maine of Des Plaines, Zion-Benton, and Niles go directly to the regional because of their size. Two schools will join them after the elimination at the Wauconda district meet involving Wauconda, Ela, Barrington, Palatine, Northbrook, Lake Forest, Warren, and St. Mary's of Des Plaines.

Arlington Heights, Antioch, Crystal Lake, Dundee, Elgin, and Woodstock go directly to the DuPage regional. The Hebron district ends two to DuPage from among Aragon, Hebron, Huntley, Grant, El-Henry, Plato Center, Richmond, and St. Mary's of Woodstock.

Bensenville will play in the district at Glenbard along with Leyden, Argo, Immaculate Conception of Elmhurst, Glenbard, Hinsdale, West Chicago, Riverside-Brookfield, and Lemont. Two advanced to the York regional where the seeded teams are Morton, York, Proviso, Oak Park, LaGrange, and Downers Grove.

Leyden leaves cellar in win over Lake Forest

Leyden climbed from the North-east cellar as a result of a 51-39 victory over Lake Forest. Both teams played more like champs than tailenders as both hit the basket consistently. Lake Forest won the junior game 28-21 with a third period rally after the Eagles had gone in front 12-11 at the half.

Sam England's Leyden five were hot from the start and piled up an 18-7 lead at the quarter. The intermission score was 30-22 and count at the third rest period stood at 44-31 for Leyden. Avers and Nelson tallied 12 points each for winners. Goedner was outstanding for Lake Forest with 14 points. Two Leyden regulars, Smith and Greene, were out of action Friday.

Box score: Leyden (51) 13-11-19-19. Nelson, f. 5-2-4-3. Avers, f. 0-0-0-3. F. Charleston, f. 1-1-2-3. Michels, c. 1-2-2-3. J. Charleston, c. 1-2-2-3. Steingraber, g. 4-0-4-3. Golgren, g. 3-0-0-2. Wild west rodeo runs extra week

Larry Sunbrook's Hollywood Thrill Circus which closed its eight day engagement at the International Amphitheatre Sunday, is continuing with additional performances of matinee and evening shows through Sunday, Feb. 1. These added days were by popular demand. The holdover was decided, to sell-out performances in which thousands of people were turned away nightly. According to officials, more than 152,000 spectators witnessed the eight matinee and evening performances, and some 60,000 were turned away. Shows start at 2:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

New Rheumatism Cure Slag-water baths — baths containing slag from blast furnaces — is the latest cure for rheumatism in Russia. Special hospitals have been established at iron, steel and chemical plants, where patients take the slag-water treatment.

Keyed to the mood of America is "Tin Pan Alley," musical of our exciting times which is coming on Sunday to the Palatine Theatre. Spectacular, sparked with the nation's greatest songs, the 20th Century Fox hit has a brilliant cast of entertainment-makers. Alice Faye and Betty Grable are starred while Jack Oakie (right) and John Payne head the featured list. Many variety short subjects will round out this bill. Showing two days Sunday and Monday.
